TENDER NOTICE

CORRIGENDUM

With reference to Advertisement released in Indian Express and Dainik Jagran, Delhi dated 21.7.2015 and also uploaded in the NBT's website and e-procurement for inviting tender for Annual Maintenance Contract for Fire Fighting Equipment and Hydrant Systems in Headquarter New Delhi. The following points may be read as under:

Selection Method:

- The selection method for technically qualified bid is Combined Quality Cum Cost Based (CQCB)
- CQCB evaluation will be as follows: assuming,
Total technical marks, is T and total financial bid price quoted in INR for all items is F, then
The overall score of a particular bidder will be calculated using the formula below

$$B = (F_{\text{low}}/F) * 40 + (T/T_{\text{high}}) * 60$$

Where

F<sub>low</sub> = The lowest Financial Quote received among technically qualified bids

F = The financial Quote submitted by the bidder under evaluation

T = The evaluated Technical Marks awarded to a particular bidder

T<sub>high</sub> = The highest Technical marks achieved by any technically qualified bidder

- The bidder having the highest total CQCB score shall rank first and would be considered for final selection.
- If two bidders have the same CQCB scores, then the least cost would be given the first preference
